NEW SUMMARY.

—Gold closed in New York at 94.
—Cotton in New York closed dull and lower at 24 1/2. Sales 1200 bales.
—Cotton in Liverpool closed dull. Uplands 11 1/2d; Orleans 11 1/2d. Sales 10,000 bales.

—"Bows, plenty of bows, all over bows," is the last fashionable report from Paris.

—Rochester's "Lantern" is printed on thin letter paper and sent into France as manuscript correspondence, sealed.

—The New York Customhouse clerks report a dull business. The spring importations have not yet begun.

—"Lady speculators" are said to frequent some of the Wall-street stock-rumbling broker shops.

—The Tribune thinks "the bill passed on Wednesday by the House," a "Homoeopathic reform of the Franking inquiry."

—It is said a London firm has offered Madame Bonniot $25,000 francs for her husband's ten posthumous compositions.

—General Grant's favorite steed for horse-back riding is said to be a beautiful black pony, which was taken from Dick Taylor's plantation during the war.

—Since the "new movement" in Virginia was inaugurated the quotable value of its State stocks has increased 30 per cent. If it succeeds the advance will be still greater.

—The pioneer settlers of California—those who went there in 1849—contemplate an excursion to the Atlantic seaboard when the Pacific railway is completed.

—Grinnell, Iowa, has a college where, out of 300 students, 500 are young women, and it is triumphantly mentioned that no liquors are sold in the town.

—The "belle of General Grant's administration" is already announced. A New York paper says she is to be Miss Nottie Fenton, daughter of the New York senator.

—A Cairo paper mentions a lot of 800,000 bushels of wheat as having passed through that place on the way from Chicago to Liverpool. It was to be shipped at New Orleans.

—Spanish spies are complained of in New York, who watch the movements of Spanish families suspected of sympathy with the Cuban insurgents.

—As the Bishop of Australia is a Ritualist the opposite party has selected, elected a new bishop, consecrated him and cut loose altogether from the old body.

—Albert Brisbane, the well known Fourierite, has bought a large tract of land in Kansas for a colony of Frenchmen, who will cultivate the land on the co-operative principle, and also manufacture silk goods.

—There is a grocer out West who is also a justice of the peace, and who offers to marry gratis all couples who will patronize his store. If he would give groceries free to all who get married at his office, it would be more of an inducement to matrimony.

—There is at least a prospect of something being done to put a stop to the sale of the dangerous and destructive kerosene oil now commonly vended throughout the North. The New York Board of Health have the matter under consideration, with authority to act decisively.

—The largest clearance at New Orleans since the war was that of the new ship Jane Fish, Captain Brown, 1498 tons register, which was cleared for Liverpool last week, with 4703 bales cotton, weighing 2,138,339 pounds, and valued at $492,800. The ship is valued at $110,000, and the freight amounts to $2370.

—Engenio's brother-in-law, the Duke of Alba, has become bankrupt at Madrid, and his property has gone into the hands of a committee of his creditors. It is used to be the custom for a Spanish grandee to pledge his moustache for the payment of his debts, but the users will not now accept that surety.

—The warlike preparations in Prussia, interrupted since the commencement of October, have been actively taken in hand. Correspondence from Warsaw mentions that all the soldiers on furlough have been recalled, and two hundred thousand bounty are given to all the discharged men who re-enlist.

—An Illinois paper tells the surprising story that an amateur billiard-player in Dixon lately made a run of 14,000 points on a carom table, pushing balls barred. It is added that two hundred of them were made in three minutes, fifteen seconds. By careful computation we find that the entire number, if made at this speed, would have occupied upwards of three hours, fifty-five minutes and twenty-nine seconds.

—A newspaper, called the "Richmond Head-Light," is published on board the steamer Richmond, one of the huge passenger palaces which ply between Louisville and New Orleans. It has two composers and one editor, and is published six times during each trip, or about three times a week. It is intended to be a faithful expositor of river life, affording entertainment for the passengers, as well as an advertising medium for hotel proprietors and merchants.

—The smallpox is reported to be very severe in the Western cities. It is asserted that the number of deaths from this disease has been unprecedentedly great in Cincinnati. Smallpox is declared to be an epidemic in St. Louis; it is scourging Chicago, though nothing is said about it in the newspapers, and in Milwaukee the public schools and the rink have been closed in consequence, and the shutting up of theatres, concert saloons and other places where large numbers of persons assemble, has been discussed.

—The Baltimore Gazette says: "The present indications are that ice will be a very scarce article in this section of the country during the approaching summer. It is said by those engaged in the trade that south of the State of Maine not ten thousand tons have yet been secured, no ice having yet formed in the neighborhood of Boston, the Connecticut or North Rivers fit to cut for storage. Some private individuals in the neighborhood of Baltimore embraced the only opportunity thus afforded, and filled their icehouses, which is all that has been secured in this vicinity."

—Hon. Horatio Seymour, his candidate for the first office in the United States, has recently been elected president of the American Drymen's Association, and a short time ago delivered an address upon the subject of cheese. Mr. Seymour asserted that "cheese ought to be more generally used for food in this country. The American people have lost the cheese-eating propensities of their forefathers. Cheese is the cheapest of all articles of food that can be used. Compared with meat, there are very important economies connected with it. It requires no fuel to prepare it. It is more nutritious, and we must look upon it as a substantial article of food. It is not a 'cheap luxury,' it is a cheap necessity. He hoped steps would be taken to present cheese as an article of common food to the favorable consideration of the poor people of our cities."

—The Board of Trustees of the Peabody Southern Educational Fund concluded their annual meeting at Baltimore yesterday, and unanimously elected Samuel Watson, of Tennessee, to the vacancy in the board caused by the death of William C. Rives, of Virginia. The report of Dr. Sears, as given to the press, is confined particularly to portions of West Virginia, Arkansas and Tennessee. The report says: "Since making my last report I have been able to complete the general survey of the eleven States which fall within our province. Special attention during this interval has been given to West Virginia, but several causes prevented. I had hoped also to complete some unfinished work in the eastern part of South Carolina, but in some of the States the political excitement of the last six months had been unfavorable to that co-operation of all parties that is necessary for the establishment and support of public schools, and that for this reason the completion of some of my plans has been postponed. 'But,' he adds, 'considerations of a character contrary to those mentioned above, strengthened my purpose to visit the more Western States at this particular time, where a system of public instruction was already existing, and was at that very time going into operation.'"

—We publish this morning a second letter from an old and experienced planter of long cotton, containing his views of the policy which should be pursued on the islands and along the coast. This letter will be found as full of interest as the first of the series.

adventurer finds office a tallman opening his way to all the hidden treasures of the country. Let us have Mr. Jencks' bill or something like it, and that as soon as practicable.

WE ARE sorry that Attorney-General Chamberlain has no evidence which justifies him in asserting or believing that Abbeville is as peaceful and orderly as any county in the State. Had Mr. Chamberlain been able to see the people of Abbeville more and know them better, he would have been convinced that they have no sympathy whatever with lawlessness and outrage, and that they will use their best endeavors to prevent the occurrence of acts of violence, which are as strongly condemned by every man in Abbeville as they are by the Governor and Attorney-General of the State.

Schidam Schnapps. OFFICE OF UDOLPH WOLFE, Sole Importer of the Schidam Aromatic Schnapps, No. 23 Beaver-street, New York, November 3, 1868.

To the People of the Southern States: WHEN THE PURE MEDICINAL RESTORATIVE, now so widely known as WOLFE'S SCHIDAM SCHNAPPS, was introduced into the medicinal profession some twenty years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with the strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of examination. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the preparation, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary logic of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medicinal purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the Schidam Schnapps, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic element, gave it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials, professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac-simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No article had ever been sold in this country under the name of Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schidam Aromatic Schnapps, in 1841; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the drinking character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vending deleterious trash under their name, that the protections so carefully thrown around these Schnapps would have precluded the introductions and sale of counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the endorsement which his Schidam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by mendacious hucksters; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, his name and brand have been used to sell common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus the public, the medical profession and the sick, for whom the Schidam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested in the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these notorious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian Juniper, of unequalled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schidam Aromatic Schnapps, and the undersigned, in order to protect the public in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In conclusion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schidam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousands of dollars, which he has devoted to the detection and suppression of these fraudulent imitations; that he has shown to the world the only liquor in the world that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison and experiment in all its forms; and from every ordeal the preparation will bear his name, real and trade mark, has come off triumphant. He, therefore, feels it a duty to owe to his fellow-citizens generally, and to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and expose the charlatans who counterfeited these evidences of identity, and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will serve to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all that they are represented to be.

UDOLPH WOLFE, Esq., Present: I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest beverage article I have ever known, and is undoubtedly, and as such may be safely prescribed by physicians.

(Signed.) DAVID L. MOTT, M. D., Pharmaceutist, Chemist, New York. 26 FINE-STREET, New York, New York, December 21, 1867.</
